

Alamo MAC Members:

Sanjiv Bhandari: is the President & CEO of BKBC Architects Inc., an award winning, planning and design firm based in Walnut Creek. He has over 35 years of experience in architecture, urban design and master planning of retail, residential and mixed-use projects. For the last three decades Sanjiv has been actively involved with many professional organizations and has served in various positions on numerous boards and commissions including; Design Review Commission for City of Walnut Creek; Board of Directors and Chairman of Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce and many others. He has been a Bay Area resident since 1983, settling in Alamo in 1998 with his wife and two sons.

Jennifer Carter: is a former high school math teacher and advocate for children. She serves on the PTA Board at Rancho Romero Elementary School and actively volunteers in the classroom. She taught "Think First," a character development program, in the Orinda Union School District. She is president of the children's organization at her church. She and her husband Josh love raising their six children in Alamo.

Aron DeFerrari (Alternate): is a criminal prosecutor for the Contra Costa County District Attorney's Office. He has successfully prosecuted almost every type of crime from misdemeanors to multiple defendant gang homicides. Aron is currently assigned to the Sexual Assault Unit where he prosecutes human trafficking, rape and child molestation cases. Aron is married to Kate DeFerrari, and they have two young daughters. They have made Alamo their home for the last 4 years.

Clark Johnson: has served as President of the Round Hill Property Owners Association and currently chairs the Architectural Control Committee for Round Hill. He is a real estate Broker Associate with Coldwell Banker with over 20 years' experience with the neighborhoods served by the Alamo MAC. He has a deep understanding of the Alamo community. He and his wife Anne have resided in Round Hill since 2004.

Steve Mick: is active and involved in many organizations within Alamo. He has served on Alamo Community council, the Alamo Parks and Recreation Committee R-7A, the Alamo Beautification Committee Zone 36, Board of Directors for the Alamo Improvement Association, and is a current member of the Vietnam Veterans of Diablo Valley. Steve is the web-master for this website.

Susan Rock: is the mother of 4th-grade twins and an Alamo School classroom math volunteer, Pack 53 volunteer, and a team mom. She is a former vice president of a Silicon Valley software company, a former strategy executive at Accenture, and former chairwoman of the Midsummer Mozart Festival. She brings financial management and strategy expertise to the MAC.

Anne Struthers: has lived in Alamo for over twenty years and has served on numerous local PTA boards. She is currently President of the Regional Center of the East Bay, and is a Division Manager for Contra Costa County Employment and Human Services. She brings knowledge of human services and community needs to the MAC.